(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., July 19.—Charters were granted and mailed this morning to two new Confederate camps, one in Virginia and one in West Virginia, by Dr. William E. Harwood, of this city, grand commander of the Virginia Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans. The Virginia camp was organized in Jefferson county, while the other formed in Dinwiddie county, Va., its charter being granted by W. E. Harwood, grand commander as there is no grand camp in the former State.

Judge John Y. Harris has been elected chairman of the Democratic Committee of Dinwiddie county to succeed Thomas E. Clarke, who has resigned both as chairman and member, and will be the regular Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates from Dinwiddie, S. T. Gerow has been elected secretary of the committee. A. M. Organ, the present county clerk, is the only candidate for that office. Captain William L. Peabody, a well known citizen of Dinwiddie, has declared himself an Independent Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates, and so will not enter the Democratic primary.

EAGLES ON A VISIT.

A large delegation from the Richmond Aerie came over on the electric line, and marched up Sycamore Street, headed by a band of music, and carrying red lights. The Petersburg members, accompanied by a large number of members, speech-making, and a general good time. The Richmond members of the order returned at midnight.

A large number of Petersburg doctors are candidates for the position of attendant physician to the Virginia Normal and Industrial Institute, the big colored school in Ettrick. The office was formerly held by the late Dr. R. D. McIlwaine.

A big excursion party, filling thirteen coaches, left this morning for Norfolk and Virginia Beach. The excursion was for the benefit of the Market Street Church Sunday school, and was under the management of Mr. W. M. Lewis.

Allie Porter, for several years an engineer at the Halifax Street Station of the Petersburg Fire Department, has offered his resignation to the fire commissioners because of alleged bad treatment in being suspended for going outside of the city while off duty without obtaining permission according to rule.

Mr. Porter was suspended a few days ago for going to Fernside Park under those circumstances.

Wright—Pile.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, Va., July 19.—The event of the week in Bristol society circles was the marriage of the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Pile, of this city, to Mr. James Walter Wright, cashier of the Mountain City, Tenn., Bank, whose parents reside at Damascus, Va. Mr. George Pile, the bride's father, is a retired business man of Bristol.

The nuptial vows were solemnized in the State Street M. E. Church, Rev. W. S. Neighbors officiating. Mrs. Alexander West and her orchestra furnished the music. Miss Margaret Pile, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. William Greener, of Knoxville, Tenn., was best man. The bridesmaids were Misses Della Smith, Nellie Bachman, of Bristol; Blair Hayter, of Abingdon, and Mae Wright, of Farmington, the latter being a sister of the groom.

The flower girls were Corine King, Nell Ninkner, Elizabeth Bachman and Julia Wood.

After a brief wedding tour the couple will take up their residence in Mountain City, Tenn., where the groom is well and favorably known.

The bride is one of the popular society girls of Bristol, and is a young lady of rare attainments, a sweet disposition, and she will be missed from the circles of friends at future social gatherings in this city.

Acting As Shepherd.

In Switzerland and other mountainous countries, goats lead long strings of animals daily to and from the pastures, but it is in South Africa that the goat is regularly kept and employed as a leader of sheep. Should a blinding storm of rain or hail drive the sheep before it, or cause them to huddle together in a crowd, so that there is a danger of their succumbing each other, the trained goat will lead them up and, by a method of its own, induce them to follow him to a place of safety.

AND NOW "SCOTTY" WANTS A SOLID GOLD BUST OF HIMSELF

Would Keep It as Sort of Sinking Fund in Case He Ever Went "Busted."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, July 19.—"Scotty," the lively and picturesque miner from Des Moines, Va., who was reported last evening, may have a portrait bust of himself executed in pure gold taken from his mines. To insure this artistic fancy it will be necessary for him "to loosen up" to the extent of $50,000 to $60,000 for the gold alone.

The sculptor who will execute the statue will be Frederick E. Triebel, a member of the National Sculpture Society. Mr. Triebel will call at the Herald Square Hotel this morning to arrange with "Scotty" for the first sitting.

"Scotty" is a head of the sculptor as full of character, signifying luck, intelligence and determination. It is said this will be the only gold portrait bust in the world.

If "Scotty" should ever be down on his luck he would not have to be "grubbed," but could meet up his graven image. This might, therefore, be considered a sort of sinking fund, regardless of its artistic merit, his friends say.

Mr. Triebel has executed portrait busts of Thomas T. Eckert, of the board of directors of the Western Union; General John A. Logan and Lydia Bradley, who gave $100,000 to the Polytechnic Institute at Peoria, Ill. He has also executed the statue of the "Mystic of Music" in the Museum of Tokyo, Japan; the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, at Peoria, Ill., dedicated by President McKinley in 1899, and the Iowa State Monument, on the battlefield of Shiloh.

FUNSTON FINED IN POLICE COURT

Former Congressman and Father of General Declared Guilty of Disturbing Peace.

UTTERANCES INFLAMMATORY

Accused Said Also to Have Tried to Draw Pistol on a Policeman.

(By Associated Press.)
IOLA, KAN., July 19.—E. H. Funston, former congressman from this district, and father of General Frederick Funston, was to-day in Police Court found guilty of disturbing the peace and with having carried concealed weapons. He was fined $5 on each charge, and the costs of the suit were charged against him, making a total of $15. A motion of appeal to the District Court was filed.

The charges against Funston grew out of the wrecking by dynamite of a temperance fanatic on July 10th of three Iola saloons. The explosions followed an agitation against saloons, in which Governor Hoch was appealed to in an effort to secure the enforcement of the State prohibition law.

Intense excitement followed the act of the dynamiter, and for three days the city was crowded with people, who came from many points of the State to view the wreckage caused and to join in a hunt for the dynamiter. During the height of the excitement Funston, it was charged, had made inflammatory utterances to the crowd, gathered about him on the streets.

When Patrolman Cannon tried to persuade Funston to desist a quarrel between the two men arose, and Funston, it was alleged, attempted to draw a revolver. Funston was arrested and formal charges made against him, after which he was released upon his own recognizance.

The loss caused by the explosions was estimated at $100,000, and the alleged dynamiter, C. L. Melvin, is still at large, although a warrant has been issued for his arrest, and hundreds have searched for him.

FEILD'S FATHER ILL.

Shock of Son's Death Too Much for Him.

There are no new developments in the mystery that has surrounded the death of young Harrison Feild at Reservoir Park last Saturday night. Close friends of the deceased stoutly maintain that he was murdered, while the police are equally confident that the suicide theory is the correct one.

Facts brought out yesterday leave no doubt in the minds of the police and the coroner that young Feild, a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, had been drinking heavily at the time he was found near his dead body on the Saturday afternoon previous to his death. His reasons for purchasing a cheap make, adds to the belief of the police that the man contemplated suicide.

The remains of the young man were interred at Reservoir Monday afternoon. The father of the deceased is eighty years of age, and has broken down from the shock.

George Chapman, a well known British subject, died yesterday at the age of seventy-three years. Mr. Chapman came from Ireland thirty-four years ago and first settled in Amelia county, Va., and afterwards lived with Mr. S. H. Hancock at Chantilly, on the Broad Street road, and lately in this city. His funeral will be at 6 o'clock this afternoon from Billie's undertaking rooms and the interment will be in Hollywood.

TRACED BY TRACKS OF THEIR OLD SHOES

(By Associated Press.)
VALDOSTA, GA., July 19.—In the trial of Milton Rawlings, charged with the assassination of the Carter children, Mrs. W. L. Carter testified to-day and was followed by her daughter, Cora Carter. Both corroborated the evidence of W. L. Carter, giving all the details of the tragedy. Mrs. Ella Jones, who lives between the Carter and Rawlings homes, testified that on the night of the killing when the shots were fired she heard the voices screaming at the Rawlings home as well as at the home of the Carters. Half a dozen witnesses were introduced to corroborate different details in the testimony of the main witnesses who had testified.

Several witnesses told of the tracks which came from Rawlings's field to the Carter homestead on the night of the tragedy, and of the peculiarities of the tracks. Witnesses stated that they were tracks, but came from under heels. When made by old shoes were arrested the next day, it is asserted, that they had on shoes of this kind. Cashier Blyth, of the First National Bank, testified to loaning Rawlings one hundred and ten dollars, the morning after the tragedy. Before the report reached this city, Rawlings was waiting at the bank when he reached there and was in a hurry.

The State rested its case.
